Truman On Air Tonight

Fireside Chat is Scheduled for 8:30; Elaboration of His Report to Congress

By Ernest B. Vaccaro

WASHINGTON, July 13 —(AP)—President Truman is going to sit down tonight and tell the American people about his prescription for heading off a depression.

He wants to get over to them his idea that there is nothing to be scared about in the moderate economic decline unless folks get panicky.

And he wants to defend the fiscal policy of his administration against criticism by some members of Congress.

The president will talk to the nation over four major radio networks and via television from a desk in the movie projection room at the White House.

This first major so-called "fireside chat" by Mr. Truman this year is scheduled for 8:30 p. m. (Cenral Standard Time).

Heads Optimists Private Willing by Draw Pearson

(Ed. Note-This is the second of a series of columns in which Drew Pearson analyzes the highly important, but little understood, economic crisis in Great Britain.)

WASHINGTON, July 13-Here are two international develop-ments which may or may not be related:

1. In contrast to other years, there is not a sign of military activity on the Russian horizon. American intelligence, steadily improving behind the Iron Curtain, reports that never at any time since V-J day has there been less sign of military preparation. As far as the eye can tell, all is serene.

2. Last spring, Europe was booming. Business seemed bet-ter than ever. The Marshall plan was hailed as a great success. At that time, Russia for the first time adopted a conciliatory policy. U. S. diplomats at the United Nations almost kneeled over when the Russians first proposed ending the Berlin blockade. At long last it looked as if Moscow realized the Marshall plan was working and it would be wise for the Kremlin to be conciliatory.

Then two things happened:
During the few brief weeks between the preliminary talks in April and May and the calling of the Paris conference in June appeared the first cracks of economic depression. British business began to slump. American unemployment rose.

Immediately Russian policy
shifted. At Paris, Vishinsky was polite but obstinate. The Paris conference was a failure. In Berlin, the blockade was only partly lifted.

Crack Down on G. I. Frauds

Though the date established for ast payments of G. Brown, manager of the local office of the Division of Employment Security, said here today.

Two hundred and ninety cases of such fraud have been reported from all offices of the division during the first six months of this year, while the Sedalia office has reported but fourteen. Of these, eleven are either before the courts or are in process of undergoing prosecution.

Three Local Cases

Of the three local cases disposed of by the federal courts this year, all have resulted in convictions and imposed sentences. In most convicted cases, Brown said, the defendant is placed on probation and suspended jail sentence pending repayment of the improperly received benefits.

G. I. fraud cases are based upon charges that the defendants, in applying for unemployment allowances, have made false affidavit that they were unemployed. The penalty for such convicted fraud, Brown added, is a maximum of a year in jail and a fine up to $1,000 on each count. On a state-wide basis, forty-five convictions have been obtained on the one hundred and six cases brought before the federal courts this year. One hundred and eighty-four additional cases reported this year are either before the courts or are in process of prose-

For Friends—Roamers— Countrymen—

UITE literally, it's one car in a thousand-999 other cars take the road for every Estate Wagon Buick turns out.

But it's far more than something exclusive, as you'll soon see when one takes its place in your garage.

For those times, for instance, when house guests arrive - what smarter equipage could you send to the station, what greater comfort, what handier way to manage the luggage problem?

And when the Lord and Master yearns for a few days away from it all-what's handier than this nimble gadabout, that lets him fold down a back seat at nightfall and enjoy full-length double-bed sleeping space?

And that place in the country, calling for a car that can go just about everywhere, do just about everything ...

That's when you'll go for the ruggedness of this beauty with its steel framing, steel top and springs of durable, service-free coiled steel. That's when you'll go for Dynaflow Drivet too-and the steady, even, fluid pull that takes furrowed fields, rough pastures and narrow back roads with equal, shift-free ease.

† Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on Super models.

In all truth, this is a star of many roles. Smart and sleek, finished like an express cruiser, it's a standout for style in any parking line-up, a family favorite for its quick readiness to take on any transportation job.

It's a buy, too, like all Buicks - and your dealer is offering pleasantly prompt delivery. Why not see him today about the car that both literally and figuratively is one in a thousand?

The Red Sox come to Sedalia with a winning percentage of .667, having taken 12 games and lost only six. Among their 18 contests have been games with some of the best semi-pro teams in Missouri and Kansas. Advance reports on the Red Sox state that they now have six players bat-ting over .300, with a team average of .302, which should be high enough to provide a close contest.

The Athletics also have six men

The Athletics also have six menover the .300 mark, and Beismeyer and Sullivan are currently batting over .400. Manager Siegel has also been working with the Sedalia aggregation to improve the fielding, and the team has a changed lineup which should offer a better defensive system.

The Athletics will play next in the Missouri State Semi-Pro tournament at Jefferson City, which starts Friday. No word has been received as yet regarding the starting time of the A's game, or who they will play. However, they will continue to play Wednesday nights at Liberty park, since the tournament will be played over week-ends, which will not interfere with the A's schedule.

NEW YORK - (AP) -There is no need to write an obituary for good reporter. He's already done it himself-in stories which gave people picture of the times they lived in. But I do want to tell you something about one reporter and why he was good. His name was John G. Werk-

Several of the group had a wider fame than Jack Werkley. But I'd like to tell you about him because I knew him longest and best - and because I never met a better reporter.

Started Early

He had no background in this trade, craft, profession, game or business - this long nerve-ache for information called "newspaperwork." His dad was a veteran railroad conductor. But somehow Jack got the newspaper virus

I first met him 18 years ago at the University of Missouri. Jack had gone there from his home n New Jersey - on a slender budget - because he'd heard that Missouri had a good journalism

WASHINGTON, July 13-(AP)-Paul G. Hoffman said after a White House call Tuesday that a proposed $750,000,000 slash in foreign aid funds would mean "taking a chance" with the European recovery program.

But when newsmen asked Hoffman if he planned to quit as chief of the Economic Cooperation Administration, he replied:

"I'm still on the job."

Hoffman had previously told congressmen during ECA hearings that if the fund were cut below the figure he considered necessary to do the job, he would quit and let somebody else try it.

The multi-million-dollar reduction in spending for the Marshall plan and other foreign aid was recommended yesterday by the senate appropriations commit-tee, which ignored President Truman's admonition that a cut would be "economic folly."

Hoffman reminded newsmen that the appropriations commit-tee's action still has to go before the whole senate and to a conference with the house before the final figure is determined.

The committee, meanwhile, defended its action in a formal report filed by Chairman McKellar (D-Tenn) who several weeks ago told Hoffman "The sooner you quit, the better it will be for this

The report said the reasons the committee voted to hold ECA spending to $3,628,380,000 were: "Recognition of our own national fiscal situation, the general price declines which are still occurring, and the judgment that this sum represents the limit of American capacity to render foreign economic assistance in the current fiscal year."

Careful administration of the funds, the report added, "should result in the accomplishments of these programs and at the same time should relieve the American taxpayer of an additional, unnecessary drain on his resources in order to assist foreign nations."

Prairie Home Club Meeting

The Prairie Home Homemakers club met at the home of Mrs. Hartley Lockard four and one half miles south east of Knob Noster, July 8 with 23 members, and 17 children present. Mrs. Grace Dwyer of Warrensburg was also present.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. George Lyle. The devotional was given by Mrs. Wallace Page. The club voted to donate five dollers to Boystown, in Oklahoma. Mrs. Grace Dwyer gave an interesting talk on "How to Protect Foods From Bacteria" also some interesting facts about undulant fever. After the business session, games were played, led by Mrs. Kirtley DeWitt.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake and iced tea were served. The next meeting will be held August 11 at the home of Mrs. Ray Anderson, eight miles southeast of Knob Noster.

Truman On Air Tonight

Fireside Chat is Scheduled for 8:30; Elaboration of His Report to Congress

By Ernest B. Vaccaro

WASHINGTON, July 13 —(AP)—President Truman is going to sit down tonight and tell the American people about his prescription for heading off a depression.

He wants to get over to them his idea that there is nothing to be scared about in the moderate economic decline unless folks get panicky.

And he wants to defend the fiscal policy of his administration against criticism by some members of Congress.

The president will talk to the over four major radio networks and via television from a desk in the movie projection room at the White House.

This first major so-called "fire-side chat" by Mr. Truman this year is scheduled for 8:30 p. m. (Cenral Standard Time).

On Economic Conditions

The talk, White House aides said, will be an elaboration of said, will be an elaboration of his midyear economic report to Congress on Monday. In this he scrapped earlier demands for a $4,000,000,000 tax increase and proposed an 11-point program to expand production, employment and purchasing power.

The theme of that message was

The theme of that message was that the country cannot have prosperity "by getting adjusted to the idea of a depression — by cutting investment or employ-ment or wages or essential government programs."

Mr. Truman took the stand that to cut what he called essential programs, in an effort to avoid in-the-red financing, would lower national output, and employment as well. He said such cutting

WASHINGTON, July 13—Here are two international developments which may or may not be related:

1. In contrast to other years there is not a sign of military activity on the Russian horizon. American intelligence, steadily improving behind the Iron Curtain, reports that never at any time since V-J day has there less sign of military preparation. As far as the eye can tell, all is serene.

2. Last spring, Europe was booming. Business seemed better than ever. The Marshall plan was hailed as a great success. At that time, Russia for the first time adopted a conciliatory pol-icy. U. S. diplomats at the United Nations almost kneeled over when the Russians first proposed ending the Berlin blockade. At long last it looked as if Moscow realized the Marshall plan was working and it would be wise for the Kremlin to be conciliatory.

Then two things happened:
During the few brief weeks

between the preliminary talks in April and May and the calling of the Paris conference in June appeared the first cracks of eco-nomic depression. British busi-ness began to slump. American unemployment rose.

Immediately Russian policy
shifted. At Paris, Vishinsky was polite but obstinate. The Paris conference was a failure. In Berlin, the blockade was only partly lifted.

Thus it looked as if the Russians figured the big break they had been looking for — depression — had arrived. Also they probably figured that the more sabre-rattling in Moscow, the to persuade France that she does more more spent or arrespond to the sabre resolution and the sabre resolution are supported to the sabre resolution and the sabre resolution are supported to the sabre resolution at the sabre resolution are supported to the sabre resolution at the more money spent on armament not need her own exclusive steel in Washington, with more result-industry, and that Belgium could ant industrial activity and busi- better manufacture steel for her, ness prosperity. Crack Down on G. I. Frauds

Though the date established for last payments of G. I. allowances under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act is July 25th, the government is continuing to crack down on World War II veterans ille-gally receiving unemployment allowances while gainfully em-ployed, Virgil J. Brown, manager of the local office of the Division of Employment Security, said

Two hundred and ninety cases of such fraud have been reported from all offices of the division during the first six months of this year, while the Sedalia office has reported but fourteen. Of these, eleven are either before the courts or are in process of undergoing prosecution.

Three Local Cases

Of the three local cases disposed of by the federal courts this year, all have resulted in convictions and imposed sentences. In most convicted cases, Brown said, the defendant is placed on probation and suspended jail sentence pending repayment of the improperly eceived benefits.

G. I. fraud cases are based upon charges that the defendants, in applying for unemployment alowances, have made false affidavit that they were unemployed. The penalty for such convicted fraud, Brown added, is a maximum of a year in jail and a fine up to $1,000 on each count.

On a state-wide basis, forty-five convictions have been obtained on the one hundred and six agents.

Clark is a member of the President's council of economic advisers. He testified before a house judiciary committee which is making a general inquiry into monopolistic practices.

It would violate anti-trust laws, Clark said, for coal mine operators to get together and decide on a three-day work week, but Lewis and the United Mine Workers were able to put one in effect. Unions are exempt from anti-trust laws.

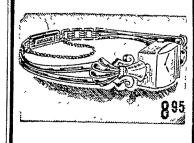

Clark said the short work week is one of "many restrictive practices" by organized labor which result in limiting production, increasing costs to producers and restraining competition.

Chairman Celler (D-NY) had fulled against inclusion of labor unions in the monopoly inquiry. He said that would invade the jurisdiction of the House labor committee.

FHE STORY: Mike McTaig, a mining engineer, has been hired by beautifut, high-spirited Cory Parnell to learn why the Dark Angel, the mine the inherited Parneil, to learn why the Dark Angel, the mine whe inherited from her father, has failen off in production. Mike makes secret samplings and finds out that the assay figures on one lot disagree with those obtained by the company assayer. Convinced that monkeyshines are afoot. Mike searches for a dummy mine that might be marketing the ore stolen from Cory. He finds some suspicious secrecy at the Argus mine, but nothing conclusive It then occurs to him that while he's around the ore thieves will not be aperating and the mill feed would jump $10 u ton So he asks Cory to get the figures on the production as quickly as possible. Meanwhile he tries to find out facts about the Argus company and begins his search for a secret exit to the Dark Angel, through which high-grade ore could be smuggled out.

PRETTY soon I'd worked my way back to the caved drifts of the early days, within 300 feet of the portal. I lit a cigaret and sat down to think.

It looked as if that hidden exit I was looking for had to be one of those old drifts. If that was so then either the drift was in good enough shape to use but was camouflaged to look as if it were caved in, or else it had been deliberately caved on Wednesday so I wouldn't sprawling on my face-and saved my life.

A stick of bombs, in the shape of 100-pound rocks, whistled down a raise and smashed into the floor directly ahead of me, spattering dirt over my back. I was on my feet and out of that drift before the echo stopped.

In the main haulage tunnel I halted to get my breath and curse myself for a fool. I should have been watching for a thing like hear you were all over the workthat—taking on a gang single-

I brushed off the dirt as best I could and started for the main portal but before I reached it a sort of delayed reaction set in and had to stop from sheer weakness

It was over soon enough but not before I'd had time to wonder when the next attempt would take place and whether it would be successful

FOR somebody who had just received good news Cory looked pretty glum when I finally reached her office.
"Well," I said, "did you get the figures?

She pushed a sheet of paper across the desk at me. I picked it up and saw she had the details all written out: ounces of gold, ounces of silver, per cent copper, all translated into dollars and cents. I looked at it again. Thursday's car was worth $964. I sat down with a thump. "That can't be right!"

"Twenty tons at $48.20 per ton is $964. Check it yourself."
"But—"

She got up and went over to the vindow "I've been thinking it window over Mike. I'm going to tell Doug Weyman to accept that offer for the mine and get out while I can I was all wrong, Mike. letting you persuade me into thinking there was something funny going on. Everyone on the townsite is a friend of mine, and I ought to 30 feet when I tripped and went have known better than to doubt my friends. It's my fault. I'll pay your fee up to date and we'll call it off."

I wouldn't have worried if she'd been mad—I could have handled that-but the way she spoke it was infinitely worse. She sounded as if she were sorry for me. Sorryand disappointed.

Before I could say anything Uncle Jake had wandered in. "Hello, there, young fellow," he said. "I ings today. Find anything we've missed?"

I was in no condition to answer him. My mind was numb. He rambled on, oozing benevolence. You know Mr McTaig, Cory's dad used to say the only thing he didn't like about Dark Angel was that the ore always looked better than it turned out to be. I sort of got an idea, young man, that's what's been worrying you."

JUST then Archie Trask bustled in, full of energy and manly goodwill. He greeted everybody cheerfully, and then Cory's figures on the sheet of paper caught his eye "Forty-eight dollars and 20 cents a ton. What's that, Cory? One of our cars?"

She was embarrassed. "That's the car we shipped yesterday, Archie. I phoned the smelter to see how it turned out."

He looked puzzled. "But, Cory, we got the figures on that car from Riggs this morning, just like we do on every car that goes out. Fortyeight-seventeen a ton, wasn't that

Cory passed the buck without a qualm. "Mr McTaig said it was going to run around $150 a ton. so he got me to phone the smelter." Uncle Jake looked at me like a

Kerr Fruit Jars dog that's been whipped for reasons it doesn't understand. Case of 12 "Mr McTaig," he said sadly, "I wish I knew why you didn't trust Pint size

Ardor For A Peace Parley Is Into A Cooling Period By J. M. Roberts, Jr.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
The United States and her allies seem to be working toward a more realistic policy regarding peace treaties There is a possibility that there will be no German treaty, in the usual form. At least it seems a long time off, and so does the Japanese The communist situation in China, with its resultant Russian effort to make a Japanese treaty a four-power affair so she can play around with it as she has the German settlement, has served to cool much of the allied ar-dor for a far eastern peace conference.

Immediately after the war there was a rush to make peace treaties. Those signed with Germany's former belligerent satellites are not working and have been the subject of numerous al-lied protests. The Italian treaty has been vitiated as it regards Trieste. The matter of her former African colonies is still up in the air. In its limitations on armed forces, the treaty has embarrassed the defense against communist

The Austrian treaty is still under negotiation. There are some indications that only Austrian insistence has prodded the Allies into this one, too, although it also serves to widen the split July 12, which took the lives of between the cominform and Yugobetween the cominform and Yugoslavia When Russia dropped her support of Yugoslav claims to Would Give Concessions

The deal is being made by the allies Secretary Acheson said Monday he thought it was going through Austria considers it a good bar-gain (The Allies have that in writing, so that no future Hitler may rise up and claim the country was railroaded) But hardly anyone thinks that a peace treaty will end the differences between the allies and Austria on one side and Russia on the other

Grad-ually, with neither Russia nor the west willing to go to war over specific minor steps, a new Ger-many will emerge That's the bet of some of the most competent observers

But peace treaties, which somehow seem to fail when brought up against the developing facts of life, are not likely to play much part as world settlement develops In the big case, between east and west, there hasn't even been a war or a bleak in diplomatic re-lations to sign a treaty over.

For Friends—Roamers— Countrymen—

QUITE literally, it's one car in a thousand—999 other cars take the road for every Estate Wagon Buick turns out.

But it's far more than something exclusive, as you'll soon see when one takes its place in your garage.

For those times, for instance, when house guests arrive - what smarter equipage could you send to the station, what greater comfort, what handier way to manage the luggage problem?

And when the Lord and Master yearns for a few days away from it all—what's handier than this nimble gadabout, that lets him fold down a back seat at nightfall and enjoy full-length double-bed sleeping space?

And that place in the country, calling for a car that can go just about everywhere, do just about everything...

That's when you'll go for the ruggedness of this beauty with its steel framing, steel top and springs of durable, service-free coiled steel. That's when you'll go for Dynaflow Drivet too—and the steady, even, fluid pull that takes furrowed fields, rough pastures and narrow back roads with equal, shift-free ease.

†Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on Super models.

In all truth, this is a star of many roles. Smart and sleek, finished like an express cruiser, it's a standout for style in any parking line-up, a family favorite for its quick readiness to take on any transportation job.

It's a buy, too, like all Buicks—and your dealer is offering pleasantly prompt delivery. Why not see him today about the car that both literally and figuratively is one in a thousand?

The National League Third Day of Play in Committed 5 Miscues U. S. Public Links For All-Star Record

By Joe Reichler

BROOKLYN, July 13—(P)— Branch Rickey, among many National Leaguers writhing under the humilitation of his circuit's latest setback by American League All-Stars, 11-7, today laid the blame on the fans doorstep.

Rickey, head of the Brooklyn Dodgers, in whose Ebbets Field the latest nightmare for the National League took place, said "It seems to me that the nationwide fans' voting is not the best one.

"I may be wrong in that," he added, "but I am sure of this, With Sedalians however. The manager should not be forced to start with the fans' position to score four unearned runs. That eventually was the margin of defeat.

The Nationals got back two runs in their half of the inning when Stan Musial followed Jackie Robinson's double with a home run over the right field screen. Athletics To Play Fast Lees Summit Club

Free Will Offering Be Taken Up At Park Tonight

The Sedalia Athletics will be shooting for their 14th victory in 18 starts when they meet the Lee's Summit Red Sox, at 8:15 o'clock tonight at Liberty park. This will be another free contest, with only a free will offering taken up during the game. This is the third such game the Athletics have played, in an effort to stimulate greater local baseball interest ball interest.

Manager Vincent Siegel of the locals stated that he will use Bus Walker on the mound tonight, with Elwood McMackin doing the receiving. Walker is currently sporting a record of four victories against two defeats.

Manager Jack Ashby of the Red Sox will pitch "Lefty" Moore or right-hander Bob Morrison, with Morgan working behind the

The Red Sox come to Sedalia with a winning percentage of .667, having taken 12 games and lost only six. Among their 18 contests have been games with some of the best semi-pro teams in Missouri and Kansas. Advance reports on the Red Sox state that they now have six players batting over .300, with a team average of .302, which should be high enough to provide a close contest.

The Athletics also have six men over the .300 mark, and Beismeyer and Sullivan are currently batting over .400. Manager Siegel has also been working with the Sedalia aggregation to with the Sedalia aggregation to improve the fielding, and the team has a changed lineup which should offer a better defensive

Convenient Hours:

The day was January 21, 1946. It was the first day, the start, of the big postwar steel strike. I was there and saw it begin. The whole nation was watching.

Backbone of American Economy At the time, I wrote that this might be the start of a tragic harter in American history, for America at that moment was try-ing to recovert to peace.

Steel was then, and is now, the neart and backbone of the Amercan economy. Steel was basic, it was needed everywhere to get the country going on the high road to great pracetime prosper-ty.

But the steel strike, if it lasted ong, could push the whole economy into a stumbling, staggering downhill fait and for a very simple reason that anyone could understand:

Since steel was basic in all sinds of industries — building, autos, washing machines, any number of industries—they'd have to shut down for lack of steel if he strike was long.

Would Have Spread Unemployment

And that would have meant preading unemployment at ime when it was vital for the country to get people into jobs, to swing over smoothly from war to peace.

In short, a long steel strike would have crushed recovery in a thousand ways.

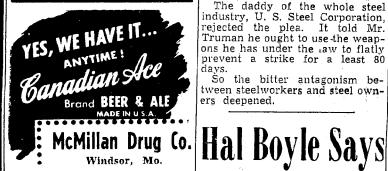

The strike lasted a month, not long enough to throw the whole country out of whack. The men went back into the mills and American prosperity began its climb to the highest peak in his-

Now, once more, the nation is faced with a giant steel strike and once more the danger comes at a moment which might be critical, for now the American economy has begun to slide down

nomic Advisers reported that the economy is slipping, that unem-ployment has increased to around 4,000,000, or double what it was year ago. Further, the economists look for things to get worse before they get better. They seem to think they will get better if-

There's more business investment, more business expansion, employment, which means more people with money to spend. But a steel strike, coming at

Says Deep Slash On Aid Funds Will Be 'Taking Chance'

WASHINGTON, July 13—(A)—Paul G. Hoffman said after a White House call Tuesday that a proposed $750,000,000 slash in foreign aid funds would mean "taking a chance" with the European recovery program.

But when newsmen asked Hoff-man if he planned to quit as chief of the Economic Cooperation Administration, he replied:

"I'm still on the job."

Hoffman had previously told congressmen during ECA hearings that if the fund were cut below the figure he considered necessary to do the job, he would quit and let somebody else try it.

The multi-million-dollar reduction in spending for the Mar-shall plan and other foreign aid was recommended yesterday by the senate appropriations commit-tee, which ignored President Truman's admonition that a cut would be "economic folly." Hoffman reminded newsmen that the appropriations commit-tee's action still has to go before the whole senate and to a conferwith the house before the final figure is determined.

The committee, meanwhile, defended its action in a formal report filed by Chairman McKellar (D-Tenn) who several weeks ago told Hoffman "The sooner you quit, the better it will be for this

The report said the reasons the committee voted to hold ECA spending to $3,628,380,000 were:

"Recognition of our own national fiscal situation, the general price declines which are still occurring, and the judgment that this sum represents the limit of the property of American capacity to render for-eign economic assistance in the current fiscal year."

Careful administration of the funds, the report added, "should result in the accomplishments of these programs and at the same time should relieve the American taxpayer of an additional, un-necessary drain on his resources in order to assist foreign nations."

The Reverend Mr. Knickerbocker, a retired Methodist minister, said he first learned of his son's death during an early moining rews broadcast.

"I didn't tell mother about it, however, until I got official confirmation that he was aboard the plane. She's in delicate health, and I wanted to spare her as much as I could," he said.

He said his son had no fear of death.

"He has covered five wars and has been exposed to death a thousand times. Death was no stranger to my son. He knew death well."

DALLAS, July 13— (P) —"We believe in God and his over-ruling providence," said H. R. Knickerbocker's father Tuesday. Knickerbocker, 51 — 1930 Pulitzer prize winner - was one of 14 news correspondents who perished in the crash of a Royal Dutch airlines plane in India. "Our faith has given us strength at this time," said the newsman's father, Rev. H. D. Knickerbocker, 78.

He said the correspondent's PITTSBURGH, July 13—(P)—So you think jobs aren't hard to get?
An estimated 1,500 applicants descended on a north side food processing firm Tuesday in response to a "help wanted" ad offering "good, clean factory work." Five openings were available. Interviews were called off and police were called to handle the crowd Said President Louis Mallet, of Mallet and Co.:
